A Look Back

In the mid-1990s, Edward Jones began recognizing an unmet need. Many clients had enjoyed the accumulation of assets or had inherited assets, and had begun thinking about the next generation. These clients needed wealth and trust management services and naturally looked to their Edward Jones financial advisor, with whom they had a long-term relationship.

Therefore, in 1995, Edward Jones purchased Boone National Savings and Loan in Columbia, Mo., to respond to those clients' needs. As a federally chartered savings and loan association, Boone National had nationwide trust powers that were never exercised. We activated the trust charter and began serving clients as Edward Jones Trust Company in 1996.

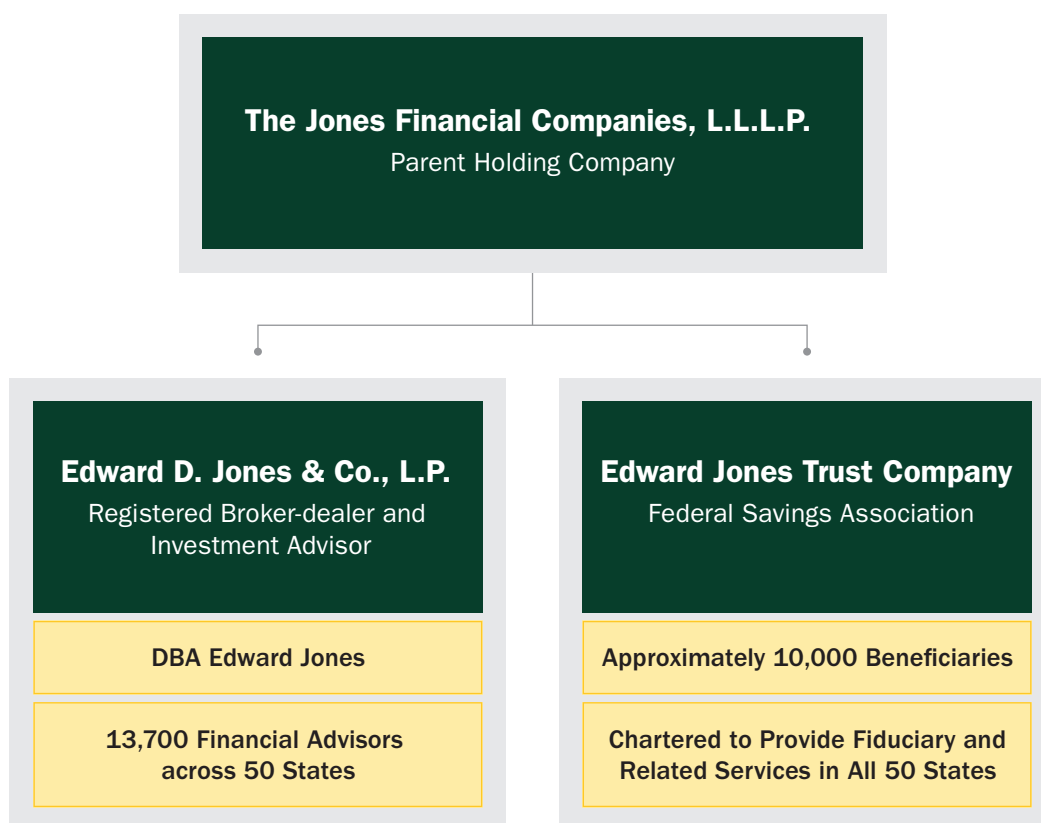

Building upon the unique business model of the local financial advisor, the Edward Jones Trust Company adds a dedicated Portfolio Manager and Trust Officer to the client's service team. This unique approach of personal service and dedicated trust resources has fueled our steady growth over the past 19 years.

As of Sept. 30, 2015, we manage approximately $3.8 billion in client assets and provide wealth and trust management services to approximately 10,000 beneficiaries.

Our commitment to providing long-term tailored solutions will continue to shape and drive our growth.

What We Do

Edward Jones Trust Company provides trust, investment advisory and custody services to individuals, businesses, charitable organizations and private foundations.

We offer a full range of personal trust and investment management services, including portfolio management, administrative services, beneficiary assistance, and reporting and performance review.

Portfolio Management

While serving as trustee or investment agent, we manage assets according to the account's investment objective. In addition to traditional investments, we also assume responsibility as a trustee for a variety of special assets such as real estate, agriculture and business interests.

Administrative Services

We perform a variety of administrative duties on your behalf. We will pay household, nursing home and medical bills according to your and your trust's direction. As part of the administrative service, we provide periodic statements that summarize receipts, disbursements and the value of assets within the account.

More about Portfolio Management

Strategic, Objectives-based Approach

As trustee or investment agent, we will develop an investment objective for each account. When establishing the investment objective, we consider a number of factors, including income needs, risk tolerance, your tax situation, provisions of the governing document and applicable law. We then manage the investments to that objective. Our investment philosophy reflects that of Edward Jones, which includes a long-term, buy-and-hold strategy, with an emphasis on diversification and quality investments.

Beneficiary Assistance

Edward Jones Trust Company will make asset distributions according to the terms of the governing instrument and offer budgeting and distribution planning assistance to beneficiaries.

Reporting and Performance Review

We provide monthly or quarterly statements as well as periodic conference calls to review your portfolio's performance.

Account Review and Reporting

Following an initial review of your portfolio, formal investment reviews are conducted every calendar year. More frequent informal reviews may occur based on changes in your needs, objectives or tax situation.

We provide recurring statements plus comprehensive annual statements. The information includes a reporting of all account assets, debits, credits and other transactions.

In terms of oversight, the Trust Investment Committee is responsible for overseeing the review of assets and/or investment processes of all discretionary accounts. The Committee consists of Trust Company and Edward Jones employees.

Types of Securities and Special Assets

Common stocks, mutual funds and fixed-income securities are the primary investment vehicles for most accounts. Life insurance policies are the primary investments in irrevocable life insurance trusts. When serving as trustee, we assume responsibility for a variety of assets that we would not purchase in our normal course of business. These special assets include real estate, limited partnerships, annuities, savings bonds, private stock and private bonds. These assets are managed according to the terms of the governing document, applicable law and Trust Company policies.

Investment Discretion

As trustee or investment agent, we have discretion over account investments. This discretionary authority comes under the governing document and applicable law. For investment agency services, discretionary authority is outlined in your account agreement.

Best Execution Practices

Best execution refers to well-informed trade execution decisions made with the intention of helping to enhance the value of client portfolios under the particular circumstances at the time. Equity and fixed-income transactions are typically made through our affiliate, Edward Jones. As a fiduciary, we monitor to verify Edward Jones' best execution practices, including price, reliability, service, speed of execution and delivery.

How We Operate

Code of Ethics

Edward Jones Trust Company has adopted a Code of Ethics that governs, among other things, securities trading by our employees. In summary, we have a fiduciary duty to each trust client. All employees are expected to place the needs and interests of clients ahead of their personal interests. The Code of Ethics also covers compliance with applicable regulations, policies and procedures surrounding the protection of client information and is reviewed annually by all employees. A complete copy of our Code of Ethics is available upon request. Please contact your Trust Officer or write to us at:

Edward Jones Trust Company

Attn: Chief Compliance Officer

Account Acceptance

We accept accounts based on our ability to deliver quality fiduciary services at a reasonable profit without undue risk. The Account Acceptance Committee develops and maintains account acceptance guidelines. Edward Jones Trust Company will begin serving as trustee or investment agent upon formal account acceptance; we assume no fiduciary responsibility unless we have formally accepted the account and its assets.

The factors we use in considering accounts include:

- Identity, residency and capacity of the parties
- The character of the assets, including their nature and location and any conditions that would hinder efficient management, such as the size of the account
- Any conflicts of interest in administering the account or undocumented needs of the beneficiaries

- The adequacy of the fee in relation to the time and effort for administration, as well as the risk of litigation among beneficiaries
- The adequacy of the powers and directions in the governing document
- Any factors that would affect our duties as fiduciary, such as state law or provisions, duties, restrictions or obligations of the governing document
- Whether co-trustees can work together to serve the grantors and beneficiaries

Custody Activities

We serve as custodian for certain Edward Jones Traditional and Roth IRA accounts in the Edward Jones Advisory Solutions program or other programs. As custodian, the Trust Company is responsible for the safekeeping of client assets. We may delegate some or all of our custodial duties to Edward Jones. For additional information about these programs, visit www.edwardjones.com/disclosures.

We also maintain a small number of accounts for which our duties are limited to the custody and safekeeping of certain securities. We charge a fee for these services. Transactions are placed through Edward Jones financial advisors upon direction of the client. Commissions on the transactions are paid by the client to the Edward Jones financial advisor placing the trade.

Customer Identification Program

To help in the fight against terrorism, and in accordance with federal law, the Trust Company or Edward Jones will obtain and verify information that identifies each person who opens an account. To open a Trust Company account, clients must provide information including, but not limited to, name, address, date of birth and Social Security number.

Safekeeping of Fiduciary Assets

The safekeeping of fiduciary assets occurs through our depository relationships with SEI Private Trust Company and our affiliate, Edward Jones. The depositories include Depository Trust Clearing Corporation (DTCC), the Federal Reserve Bank and the Bank of New York (BONY).

In unique situations, the Trust Company's fiduciary assets are held in Edward Jones' depository account. Examples would include assets that are not transferable, limited partnerships that are in the process of liquidation and assets that are in the process of estate redemption. Physical securities that are not depository-eligible are maintained in a secured vault under dual control at either the Trust Company or Edward Jones. In limited circumstances, mutual funds or subaccounts of insurance contracts are held in unissued share form at the fund company. The Trust Company's primary custodians are:

SEI Private Trust Company 1 Freedom Valley Drive Oaks, PA 19456	Edward Jones 12555 Manchester Road St. Louis, MO 63131

Proxy Voting

As a fiduciary, Edward Jones Trust Company retains an unaffiliated third-party proxy voting agent to analyze, recommend and execute proxy votes. The use of third-party voting guidelines serves to prevent proxy votes from conflicts of interest involving the Trust Company or its affiliates. Proxies will be voted in accordance with the best interests of the account.

Ending Our Relationship

Investment agency or managed IRA relationships may be terminated at any time by written request. The termination of trust account relationships is considered and determined based on consistency with our trustee duties and applicable law.

Our Fee Structure

Trust Services, Managing Agent, Managed IRA

When serving as trustee, co-trustee or managing agent, we provide you and your beneficiaries with personalized asset management and fiduciary services coordinated through the financial advisor.

Account fees are a combination of an annual base charge and a tiered scale according to assets under management:

- The annual base charge differs according to account type as follows: Trustee or Co-trustee is $1,200 per year; Managing Agent is $600 per year; IRA is $300 per year.
- The tiered scale is calculated by a percentage of the assets under management. At increasing intervals of assets under management, the fee percentage decreases (see chart below and example at right). Accounts of $5 million or more are charged a flat percentage fee.

While we do not have a minimum account size, the minimum annual fee is $6,000 for the first account and $3,000 for each additional account. For accounts subject to the minimum annual fee, the effective annual fee percentage rate may exceed the rates listed below.

Affiliate Transactions

Edward Jones Trust Company is a wholly owned subsidiary of The Jones Financial Companies, L.L.L.P. (Jones Financial). We are a separate entity from Edward D. Jones & Co., L.P. ("Edward Jones"), a registered broker-dealer and also a subsidiary of Jones Financial.

Edward Jones Trust Company's published fee schedule provides a listing of the fees for our services. We may use Edward Jones and our other affiliates for account-related services. We typically use Edward Jones to act as a broker-dealer for security transactions within our accounts. The commissions for these transactions are typically included in our fees, but additional fees for other services by our affiliates may be charged to your account. You will be notified of any change to our published fee schedule.

Financial Advisor Compensation

Unless otherwise determined by state law, the Edward Jones financial advisor who assists with the account receives a portion, not to exceed 35%, of the fee charged by us. The assistance may include identification of clients in need of fiduciary services, collection of account or client information, and communication to clients. We remain solely responsible for all fiduciary services, including administrative and investment decisions.

Financial advisors may also participate in a bonus program sponsored by Edward Jones that will allocate a credit of $0.54 for every $1,000 under management at Edward Jones Trust Company. Under this program, financial advisors may receive production awards, trips and other incentives. Additional information with respect to financial advisor compensation can be found on the Edward Jones website (www.edwardjones.com/disclosures).

Compensation paid to financial advisors may be adjusted from time to time. We may or may not reimburse Edward Jones for some or all of the compensation it pays to the financial advisor. Any such payments to the financial advisor or Edward Jones will not result in additional charges to the account.

The financial advisor does not receive direct allocation of the fees that we collect in our capacity as trustee of an irrevocable life insurance trust. However, those fees may be considered by Edward Jones when calculating bonuses paid to financial advisors. When life insurance policies are purchased, insurance companies pay a commission to Edward Jones. Edward Jones also receives annual renewal commissions. These commissions do not result in additional charges to the account.

Mutual Fund Fee Information

When acting as trustee or in other fiduciary capacities, we may hold or invest clients' assets in mutual funds, money market funds, annuities or other pooled investments. Such funds are generally bought and sold at net asset value, resulting in no direct sales charge to the account. The fund management companies and their affiliates charge various commissions or management fees for their services, as described in their prospectuses. Those commissions or fees are separate from and in addition to the fees paid to Edward Jones Trust Company.

RULE 12b-1

A portion of the commissions or fees charged by the fund management companies or their affiliates may be paid to Edward Jones Trust Company, Edward Jones or our third-party service providers for administrative services. Such payments are governed by Rule 12b-1 of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. Generally, the fees (known as "12b-1 fees") are less than 1.00% of the average annual share value of the fund shares.

When 12b-1 fees arise from mutual fund assets held in accounts in which Edward Jones Trust Company has discretionary authority, which includes those accounts in which we serve as trustee, we will provide a Fee Offset in an amount approximately equivalent to the 12b-1 fees received by us or our third-party providers. The Fee Offset will be applied to our account fees and will show on the account statement.

When 12b-1 fees arise from assets held in the subaccounts of annuities, life insurance policies or other similar products, they may be retained or credited to us or our providers. In these cases, a Fee Offset will not be applied to the account fees.

Additional information concerning the calculation of 12b-1 fees is set forth in a fund's prospectus relating to the mutual fund or a pooled investment and is available upon request.

Preferred Fund Families

The Edward Jones Trust Company Trust Investment Committee reviews and maintains a list of permitted mutual fund holdings for trusts and other accounts for which we have investment discretion. The list may include mutual funds on Edward Jones' "preferred family" list. Edward Jones exclusively promotes the mutual funds within the preferred fund families. A significant portion of the mutual fund assets held for client accounts at Edward Jones Trust Company is invested in mutual funds that are designated as preferred funds by Edward Jones.

Edward Jones Trust Company does not provide investment advisory services or investment management services to mutual funds or other pooled investments. However, Olive Street Investment Advisers, LLC, a subsidiary of The Jones Financial Companies, L.L.P., and affiliate of Edward Jones Trust Company, serves as the investment adviser of certain affiliated mutual funds. Edward Jones Trust Company will generally not purchase or retain these affiliated mutual funds for client accounts over which it has investment discretion. These funds may, however, be used in certain advisory accounts offered by Edward Jones, including Individual Retirement Accounts where Edward Jones Trust Company is the custodian for account assets. Certain current or former associates of Edward Jones may serve as officers or directors of the affiliated investment adviser or the affiliated mutual funds.

REVENUE SHARING

Our affiliate Edward Jones receives payments, known as "revenue sharing," which are payments made by the fund's management or distribution company. The revenue sharing payments may also be received from companies of mutual funds not included in the preferred fund families.

Such revenue sharing payments may be based on the average asset value, as is the case with the 12b-1 fees, or based on sales of fund shares during certain time periods. As a result of such payments, Edward Jones and its representatives and affiliates, including Edward Jones Trust Company, may have a direct or indirect incentive to choose or recommend investments in mutual funds that are members of the preferred fund families.

Additional information with respect to revenue sharing may be found in the mutual fund prospectuses and on the Edward Jones website (www.edwardjones.com/disclosures).

TRAINING AND EDUCATION SEMINARS

In addition to fees paid to Edward Jones Trust Company and our affiliates, mutual fund management companies and distributors for the preferred fund families and other funds may provide Edward Jones and its affiliates training and education seminars for its personnel, clients and potential clients. This may take place in connection with recreational activities, recognition events and "due diligence" meetings regarding the funds. The employees of Edward Jones Trust Company or our affiliates may receive noncash items or benefits from such activities.
